

Meet Amanda!

Amanda Zelin, MSW, APSW, is a school-based mental health therapist at our Stevens Point Center.

Amanda joined Rawhide as a therapist in October 2023. She earned her associate degree at the University of Wisconsin–Fox Valley, a bachelor's degree in sociology with a minor in psychology and an emphasis in gerontology at the University of Wisconsin–La Crosse, and a master's degree in social work at the University of Wisconsin–Milwaukee.

Before Rawhide, Amanda worked as a child welfare social worker with students who lacked a healthy, safe support system and experienced immense trauma, grief, and separation. She also helped families learn how to feel empowered in supporting youth.

At Rawhide, she works with children and families through a strength-based, person-centered approach that encourages them with the skills they need to reach their full potential. Amanda's passion for creating a safe space for children to heal allows them to advocate for themselves and develop lifelong learning skills while being someone they can count on and trust.

Amanda's Why...

"I want to remind our youth of how resilient they are. At a young age, I learned the importance of having supportive, caring adults and healthy skills to navigate through loss, trauma, and life transitions. Rawhide gives me the ability to provide youth and families with unwavering acceptance while working with them to help them live healthy and successful lives."

BEING A TEEN IS HARD.

We help them get through it.

Youth who come to Rawhide Youth Services are hurting, and are searching for confidence and love. Our licensed therapists listen and guide them as they work through their anger, anxiety, depression, abuse, trauma, suicidal thoughts, and more.

We offer individual, group, and family therapy options at our ten counseling centers around the state. Some locations also offer equine-assisted, occupational, and school-based therapies, with an emphasis on healthy relationships, trauma work, social skills, and more.
